SWEATER COATS

Like the kind sold at Thalhimers, are more popular than ever this season. We anticipated a tremendous demand for them, and last January placed our Sweater order with the largest and best knitting works in this country. By giving them ample time they gave us exceptionally well made garments, knit of the finest carded Australian wool—a very different article from the kind you get when you wait to buy and send in "hurry-up" orders.

Those who have visited this section say we have the largest selection and best values in Richmond. Come to-morrow. Let us convince you.

Fancy German Weave Coat Sweaters, made of the finest Australian carded wool, medium and extra lengths; these cannot be duplicated under $4.00; our price $3.48

Danville Social News

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Danville, Va., November 12.—Mrs. Abner Anderson and Mrs. Rowson White Cole were the hostesses at a very delightful affair at their home on Main Street, Tuesday afternoon, from 4 until 6 o'clock. The guests were greeted in the reception hall by Miss Lillie Jennings and Mrs. Treadway Gravelly, who ushered them into the parlor, where the hostesses received.

The parlor was decorated throughout in red, and the light from numerous red candles made everything within look very attractive. Mrs. Anderson wore black satin, with real lace trimmings, and Mrs. Cole was gowned for the occasion in gray messaline, with crystal ornaments. Assisting in receiving were Miss Ella Jackson and Dr. H. W. Cole, United States Navy.

Mrs. J. E. Perkinson and Mrs. Edgar Murrie stood at the doors between the parlor and dining-room. Here a beautiful color scheme of green and white was used. Tall vases held exquisite clusters of carnations, while the table had for its centerpiece a large bunch of these same flowers. White candles with shades of the same color were used.

Mrs. Joseph Anderson and Mrs. Lewis E. Harvie poured tea. They were assisted by a bevy of young girls, Misses Annie C. Berkeley, Champa Douthett, Marguerite Jordan and Harriett James. Mrs. Bascombe Jordan and Mrs. Thomas Edmunds ushered the guests from the dining-room into the library, which was effectively decorated in pink carnations. Here delicious loaves were served by Misses Elizabeth Noell, Janie Harvie, Grace Jones, Bessie Carter and Essie O'Neal Smith, United States Navy. Mrs. Randolph Meade and T. A. Weller received the guests as they were leaving.

Mrs. B. F. Jefferson and Mrs. George Robertson were the hostesses at a very delightful affair at the Country Club here Wednesday afternoon. The club was beautifully decorated with fall flowers, and quite a pleasant afternoon was spent.

Miss Lucy Puryear has returned from an extended trip through West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky and Maryland. Mrs. James Bustard, of Scottsburg, is the guest of Mrs. B. F. Jefferson.
